his month completes 25 years since the creation of Beachwood Buzz. Together, with support from my amazing staff, the city, schools, Chamber, advertisers, and all of you, we've hit this milestone of surpassing a quarter century together!

Rolling back the hands of time, here's how it all began. In August 1996, I was a stayat-home mom, raising two children, Brian and Julie, who are now 34 and 30. I had come to a crossroads in my life, thinking about what to do to earn a few dollars.

Enter Andy Shupp. I was home, washing dishes, when he came over and said to me, "I have an idea. Let's start a magazine."

I responded by saying, "What's this 'we' business, and what do we know about magazines?"

His explanation amounted to a business plan in its most simplistic form. He explained that it would be easy. We would share the responsibility of selling ads to cover our costs, I would be responsible for the editorial side, and he would do the layout.

Without breaking stride, I said, "Let's call it Beachwood Buzz."

The next day, Andy came over with four logo designs. We agreed on one, sold enough ads to cover our costs, and published our first issue in October 1996.

After about two years, Andy stepped down and wished me continued success.

I've learned many valuable lessons along the way – both in business and in life. Although Andy's plan worked, one lesson learned is that creating this magazine is never easy. It's a challenge to obtain each element in this book and I'm grateful for help from everyone on our dedicated team. Once all elements are completed and approved, layout is like putting together a giant jigsaw puzzle, which is rewarding to complete each month.

I've experienced successes and failures: Some things work, others don't. As with anything, the only way to feel benefits of success is to step outside our comfort zone.

A few lessons I've learned are to be grateful, kind, trusting, and non-judgmental, and to recognize that nobody is immune from adversity. We don't know what tomorrow may bring, so it's important to make responsible choices today to create balance and happiness in our lives.

My sister, Darcy Alter, lost her 10-year battle with cancer almost six years ago. Despite the suffering she endured, she kept a positive attitude and was a great role model for her family. I believe that she knew she would lose her battle, yet she was never amenable to discussing it. All she wanted to do was create lasting memories for her kids. In August 2015, I went with the Alters and my parents on a "last hurrah" trip to the Bahamas. Darcy loved the beach. As the sun began to set on the very last day of our vacation, I asked her if she was ready go back to the hotel. She said that we should go back, and she would be there soon. As I walked down the winding path, hand in hand with Sadie (BHS class of '21), Darcy's youngest child, tears filled my eyes because I knew that Darcy wanted solitude to take in the ocean breezes just one last time.

I share this story because of the strong lessons I learned from my sister: Life is fragile and it's important to create memories. I'm grateful for continued support of this magazine and am proud to have hit this milestone. I love what I do, and will continue to create memories around this. I also have other passions to pursue, mostly related to art, nature, travel, volunteering, and spending more quality time with family and friends. Therefore, beginning in 2022, I've come up with a solid plan that reprioritizes my time. Many people put off their dreams for a future date. My future date is now.

I share this story because of the strong lessons I learned from my sister: Life is fragile and it's important to create memories.

Beachwood is a great community in which to live, work and play. A lot has happened here since 1996, and I invite you to take a walk down memory lane by reviewing Beachwood's Timeline of Select Highlights, which starts on page 7.

THANK YOU for your continued support. As I reviewed past issues of Beachwood Buzz to create this timeline, I was humbled by all the features that I've had the privilege of publishing. Everyone has a story to share, and I invite you to share yours in Beachwood Buzz.

Have a happy, safe September.

A Retrospective: CREATING A BUZZ FOR 25 YEARS

Beachwood Buzz was created in 1996. Twenty-five years later, Beachwood is still one of the best places to live, work and play. A lot has happened since our first issue was printed, thanks to dedication of elected officials, administrators, staff, volunteers and residents throughout our community. Our mission, then and now, is: A magazine about Beachwood, for Beachwood, by Beachwood. We always welcome input with open arms! I invite you to take a walk down memory lane on the following pages. Story starts on page 7.

Editor's note: The election is November 2, 2021. Political advertising starts on page 36. The October issue of Beachwood Buzz will include a Candidates' Forum, providing an opportunity for each candidate to submit editorial content that states his or her position.

Beachwood Historical Society Contest

The Beachwood Historical Society is committed to preserving the dynamic history of Beachwood, educating people of all ages, and sharing historic collections. It preserves and promotes artifacts, documents and photographs; educates people about the history of Beachwood, from "Beechwood" to Beachwood; sponsors events; and researches and archives information.

New challenge:

Where is this sculpture located? What does it represent?

Please email answers to beachwoodbuzz@gmail.com with the words "Beachwood Historical Society Challenge" on the subject line.

All correct answers received by September 15 will be entered in a raffle for a $50 gift card.

Last month's challenge:

Where was the landing strip for the radio-controlled airplane tournaments? People would come to Beachwood from all over Ohio to participate!

Answer:

The airport was located on Richmond Road, by Harvard. There was a sign out front of Snoopy in his Red Baron garb, flying a plane, and people from Northeast Ohio and beyond came to participate in competitions.

Congratulations – again – to George Vourlojianis!

All correct answers received by Sept. 15 will be entered in a raffle for a $50 gift card.

Backyard Paradise

s the summer nears its end, so does the gardening season. Last month I had an opportunity to tour six Beachwood gardens. I believe that our outdoor world reflects our inner world, and that being in nature clears our mind, relaxes us, and provides a sense of calm. Jan Kirschenbaum, Sharon Levey, Scott and Liz Morrison, Miriam Pearlmutter, Debbe Rabinowitz and Sharon Weisman all share this philosophy. I enjoyed each garden tour and thank each of them for sharing their backyard paradise.

Jan Kirschenbaum

Jan has enjoyed gardening her entire life. When she was growing up, her mom had rose gardens and perennials everywhere. She watched her mom work outside and grew to appreciate fresh flowers. Today, Jan has several peony bushes and silver dollar plants from her mom's garden, with seeds from the silver dollar plants that originated in her grandmother's garden.

Some plants came from friends and others were purchased in quart-sized containers. Over the years, Jan has enjoyed watching them grow to maturity.

She uses repurposed items throughout her outdoor space, including her grandson Jayden's bird feeder and her mom's frog. A birdbath sits in the center of her backyard paradise, with stones strategically placed around it. Jan has an eye for placing unexpected items throughout her gardens, which bring a fashionable flair.

"When I'm outside, I feel a sense of calm and relaxation."

"When I'm outside, I feel a sense of calm and relaxation," Jan said. "Maintaining, trading and sharing are a lot of fun these days. I've learned some great tips from Facebook garden groups. There are a lot of really knowledgeable people out there!"

Sharon Levey

When Sharon and her husband Jeff constructed their circular drive, they had the contractor dump the dirt in the center, where they planted a black walnut tree. Today, 40 years later, this tree provides shade for Sharon while she tends the flowers that surround it.

The first flowers to bloom each spring are daffodils, followed by tulips. Sharon wraps her bulbs in wire mesh, so animals don't bother them. Next come irises, coneflowers, sedum, black-eyed Susans, dahlias and gladioli. Rose bushes and phlox varieties are just some of the plants that frame the couple's front window. The yard is stunning, always in full bloom. This is by design and many years of intentional work. Bulbs and perennials blossom throughout the season, along with select annuals, such as coleuses and chrysanthemums.

"People stop to see my garden all the time," Sharon said. "Some tell me that they really weren't going in this direction, but they had to drive by because it's always changing. It makes me feel good because the garden fills your senses and I love to give people flowers."

Around the side of the house is a fenced-in area where Sharon grows garlic, red onions, white onions, Brussels sprouts, yellow beans, green beans, asparagus, tomatoes, horseradish, cucumbers, carrots, peppers, red chard, kale, dill and corn. She also grows fig trees, peach trees, plum trees, apple trees, a pear tree and blueberry bushes.

"Sometimes when I harvest produce, I give it to my neighbors, who often make something to share," Sharon told us. "Sharing is one of my favorite things when it comes to gardening."

"Sharing is one of my favorite things when it comes to gardening."

Lilacs, grasses, sunflowers, asters, basil, raspberries, carrots, spinach and rhubarb are in the back yard and on the opposite side. It's no wonder that Sharon spends two to three hours a day tending her garden, and often deviates from her plan when she goes outside because she notices something that takes priority.

Gardening doesn't stop when Sharon goes into the house. She's created a reference notebook that documents all plants, alphabetically, with notes about watering, fertilizing and care. She also notes companion plants because when planted together, they repel bugs. For example: tomatoes with marigolds, basil with peppers, and nasturtiums with cucumbers.

"When I'm in my garden, I'm in my glory," Sharon said. "The nice part of gardening is that things are constantly changing."

Sharon Weisman

Sharon has a passion for gardening. She finds it therapeutic to get her hands in the dirt when she gets home from work. A few years ago, she and her husband, Lou, enhanced the landscape on the side of their home with a WOW element.

She had a vision that, with help from Eastside Landscaping, became reality. "I wanted raised garden beds, a water feature, a covered pavilion, and a dipping pool – with palm trees to provide a tropical feeling," she recalled with a smile.

Today, her vision is reality with hydrangeas, hibiscuses and potted annuals surrounding a waterfall that flows into the pool. To its left are three raised beds that overflow with oregano, thyme, eggplant, peppers, tomatoes, rosemary, basil, cucumbers, zucchini, yellow squash, onions, garlic, sage, tarragon, parsley, dill and carrots.

There are also petunias, lavender and arborvitae that serve as a border behind a row of lounge chairs. To escape from the sun, there is a shaded pavilion with an interior that mimics the couple's travels, with elements that include leopard-printed fabric, reflective of a trip to Africa.

"Everything grew exceptionally well this year," Sharon said. "Lou's a big part in the garden's success. He feeds the plants, and I couldn't do it without his help."

Sharon also told us that nobody enjoys the pool, which was built to their specs, more than Lou does. One bench was constructed for her 5'3" height, and the other accommodates his at 6'1". Lou, an Emergency Room physician and former competitive swimmer, needs to get his gills wet all the time. The first thing he does when he gets home is jump into the pool.

Sharon loves to reap the benefits from her labor and has recipes for every herb. She often gives family and friends little containers and says, "Help yourself!" It adds to the camaraderie of bringing together family and friends.

"This is my happy place," Sharon added. "It's my dream come true. My paradise."

"Whether picking tomatoes, weeding, relaxing or entertaining, I love being out here," Sharon said. "Most importantly, I value relationships and this is a meeting place. Last year, it was ideal when we were only socializing outdoors."

Sharon's warmth radiates when she talks about entertaining. "Family and friends come for birthday celebrations, potlucks and work gatherings. Plus, when our kids come home, this is a draw," she said. "It's exactly what I wanted and why we built it.

"This is my happy place," she added. "It's my dream come true. My paradise."

Sharon is an American Sign Language teacher at Beachwood Schools and professor in the Speech & Hearing Sciences Department at Cleveland State University. She grew up in Beachwood, came back, raised her family here and teaches here. "Beachwood is so much a part of who I am. It's the greatest community," she said.

Liz & Scott Morrison

Liz and Scott both grew up gardening and have maximized the garden space in their yard.

They created a fenced-in area, where they originally grew tomatoes, zucchinis and peppers. Then, as the price of vegetables increased, they expanded to include other varieties.

"We get about 300 pounds of tomatoes a season," Liz said. "We cook them down and can them. We also freeze and vacuum seal produce."

Additionally, Liz and Scott grow thyme, cilantro, mint, basil, onions, peppers, jalapeño peppers, garlic, corn, cucumbers, potatoes, zucchini, squash, and catnip for the little guy! They also have a butternut squash plant that grows vertically and is about 20 feet long, a variety they hadn't previously attempted to grow.

Hops, which cover two trellises and attach in the middle, are fairly new in the garden. To grow hops, you start with rhizomes, which are hard to obtain. "We were on a waiting list for two years, and now have four," Scott said. "Every year, the hops get bigger and better. This is our fluffiest year so far.

"We planted them in whiskey barrels, and you can actually sit and watch them grow," he added. "We've been making beer for 30 years, usually IPA. We make six gallons at a time and can now make it extra hoppy!"

Liz and Scott enjoy giving away produce and being creative with new recipes, including zucchini pizza and zucchini boats.

"We love to be selfsustaining," Scott said. "We produce amazing, organic vegetables for about four months out of the year."

In flower land, they have marigolds, black-eyed Susans, lilies, and a few other varieties that deer don't like. They also have a pond, where stunning water lilies bloom. "We love to be self-sustaining," Scott said "We produce amazing

Scott said. "We produce amazing, organic vegetables for about four months out of the year."

Miriam Fair

When Miriam and her husband, Adam, met four years ago, her yard was nothing to speak of. Today, it's their outdoor paradise. Adam's handiwork is seen throughout the space, with a waterfall, live-edge table and stone patios that he built for Miriam as a wedding gift. Add an outdoor heater, benches, hanging annuals, and lights strung throughout to create additional atmosphere once the sun goes down. Miriam repurposes items throughout the space: A table from Adam's childhood home and a turtle from her daughter are just a couple accessories. She and Adam continue to experiment with plants, and have had success with various grasses, ferns, flowering shrubs and hibiscuses.

"It's very soothing to spend time outdoors," Miriam said. "We feel transported when we use this space."

Oebbe Oeutch Rabinowitz

When Debbe and Marty purchased their home, the landscape was old fashioned and overgrown, so Debbe, an interior designer, hired Ann Rozemarin, a landscape designer, to create a circular garden with an English garden flair.

The garden includes hydrangeas, peonies, grasses, black-eyed Susans, daisies, cone flowers, hostas, bee balm, Japanese maples, lavenders, and so much more. Interspersed are boulders and rocks, which add interest throughout.

"Ann achieved what we had envisioned," said Debbe. "Our outdoor space always evokes happy feelings for me."

BAKED by Abbie It's Apple Pickin' Time

his month, I am returning to the topic of baked fruit desserts. Again, I reference my 2021 Revised and Updated King Arthur Baking Company's All-Purpose Baker's Companion to provide clarity on the difference between crisps and crumbles, because they "are quite similar ... but not the same," especially in this country.

They both contain "toppings of sugar, butter, flour and sometimes oats ... The names point to their fundamental differences. Crumble toppings contain a ratio of streusel ingredients that tend towards a crumblier texture, whereas the blend of ingredients in a crisp topping will yield just that: a crisper result."

In the U.K., Australia and New Zealand, the crumble refers to both desserts. Canadians use both terms interchangeably. The earliest U.S. reference to apple crisp in print occurs in 1924 with a recipe in the Everybody's Cook Book: A Comprehensive Manual of Home Cookery. The dish gained popularity during WWII when food rationing limited access to pie ingredients.

As you usher in new beginnings this fall and new year celebrations (for those of the Jewish faith), I hope you'll find time to visit a local apple orchard for some treasured family fun. Should you have more apples than you can eat, use some to make this easy classic American dessert.

Apple Oatmeal Crisp

Adapted from The New York Times Cook Book, Revised Edition, Craig Claiborne, 1990

Ingredients:

- 4 cups peeled and sliced tart apples (see note), about 4 medium apples
- 1 2 tablespoon lemon juice
- 2 4 tablespoons granulated sugar, depending on the tartness of the apples
- 1 cup rolled oats, either old-fashioned or quick-cooking
- 1/2 cup brown sugar
- 1/3 cup flour
- 6 8 tablespoons butter/margarine, melted
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- Pinch of salt
- 1/3 cup chopped walnuts, optional

Directions

- Pre-heat oven to 375° F.
- Place apples in a greased 8 x 8 baking dish. Sprinkle with lemon juice.
- Combine remaining ingredients into a crumbly mixture and sprinkle over apples.
- Bake for about 30 minutes, or until apples are tender.
- Serve hot or warm, topped with whipped cream or vanilla ice cream.

Note: Go ahead and mix tart and sweet apples! According to SimplyRecipes.com, top apples for baking, snacking and sauces are: Braeburn, Fuji, Gala, Golden Delicious, Granny Smith, Honeycrisp and Pink Lady.

Self-Compassion is a Super Power

by Jennifer Stern

Remember, you have been criticizing yourself for years and it hasn't worked. Try approving of yourself and see what happens."

- Louise L. Haye, You Can Heal Your Life

Why are we so hard on ourselves? Life is hard enough without self-criticism and negative self-talk. That voice in our head can be so punitive, impatient or unkind. Most of us would never speak to others as we do ourselves.

There is no perfect person. I promise, a perfect person does not exist. We are all imperfectly human, flawed. Allow this truth to create space for acceptance of your humanity and of your growth potential.

Self-criticism (negative self-talk) is not a catalyst for change, growth or empowerment. Negative self-talk intensifies vulnerabilities, insecurities and self-doubt. This negative habit depletes, isolates and sabotages our ability to see our potential for growth, healing and success.

Compassionate/productive self-talk motivates, encourages and increases healthy energy. This intentional and mindful practice acts as the counterbalance to self-criticism.

Self-compassion is speaking to yourself as kindly and empathetically as you would a friend. Don't be mistaken, self-compassion is not selfindulgence, nor is it "letting yourself off the hook." Selfcompassion motivates and strengthens confidence through encouragement. People who speak to themselves through the lens of encouragement and self-compassion are confident, goal oriented, driven, accountable, flexible and successful. Self-compassion enhances motivation, fosters trust in oneself, inspires creativity and advances a growth mindset.

When you are patient and compassionate with yourself, you are more likely to grow through difficult times rather than get stuck in negative, self-sabotaging narratives.

Notice how you feel when your inner voice is negative and punitive. Detach from that energy and reframe to objective (human) strengths awareness, encouragement, and selfcompassion. Releasing the weight of negativity will allow you to fly.

Self-compassion enhances motivation, fosters trust in oneself, inspires creativity and advances a growth mindset.

How to End Ohio's Gender Wage Gap

by State Representative Kent Smith

he Gender Wage Gap is a persistent feature of the U.S. labor market. It is also a moral failure of American civil society. In March 2018, the Institute for Women's Policy Research released a report entitled, "The Economic Status of Women in Ohio." It concluded that if current trends continue, women in Ohio would not experience equal pay until the year 2067. Based on available national data, median weekly earnings have only narrowed by 6% (from 76.4% to 82.3%) in the last 20 years.

If we could close the Ohio Gender Wage Gap, the poverty rate for employed women would be reduced by nearly half and poverty among employed, single mothers would drop by twofifths. Consider those profound public policy implications. We could cut poverty for women by up to 50%, without any additional taxpayer dollars, if women were just paid the same as men. This is why more must be done in Ohio to solve the problem of unequal pay for equal work.

To that end, in my first and second term, Representative Janine Boyd (District 9) and I sponsored legislation to create a Pay Equity Hotline, where employees could anonymously report possible wage discrimination to the Ohio Civil Rights Commission. While we have continued to introduce this legislation every General Assembly term, it is clear the GOP majority will not advance our bill.

So, last month, Representative Monique Smith (District 16) and I introduced legislation to create the Fair Paycheck Workplace (FPW) designation. That legislation would acknowledge Ohio companies that have made equal pay for equal work a core, operating practice.

For those reasons, more must be done in Ohio to solve the problem of unequal pay for equal work.

It's permissive, not punitive, and we believe the benefits to FPW businesses would be substantial. If a company receives the desigisnation, it would most likely bring new customers in the door and produce a stronger talent pool of prospective employees.

Wouldn't it be great if Ohio eliminated its Gender Wage Gap? The Pay Equity Hotline and Fair Paycheck Workplace legislation would help. Or we could just wait until 2067.

State Representative Kent Smith represents Ohio's 8th House District which includes Beachwood, Euclid, South Euclid, Richmond Heights, East Cleveland, Woodmere Village, and a little bit of the City of Cleveland.

Bracelet Arms Women Against Predators

By Arlene Fine

manda Basco is raising the bar when it comes to helping women combat the alarming rise of drink spiking and drug-facilitated sexual assault. The University of Tampa senior is COO of Pure-Sipity, a start-up company that created a stylish bracelet that incorporates date-rape drug testers in its design to enable women to instantly know if their drink has been spiked.

"Each bracelet contains drug-sensitive stickers that react immediately when they come in contact with a drop of hard liquor, wine or beer," said Amanda. "If the sticker changes colors, it shows that the drink has been spiked with one of the most popular date-rape drugs like Rohypnol, gammahydroxybutyric acid (GHB) or ketamine."

Amanda said college campuses across the country are raising red flags about the rise of drug-induced, date-rape cases. "In Tampa some club owners are asking bartenders to spike drinks, and women are completely unaware because the chemicals are usually tasteless and the lighting is so dim, they can't tell if the drink is a little cloudy," said Amanda.

Amanda is all too familiar with the effects of a drugged drink. In her freshman year, two of her roommates fell victim to spiked drinks after a night at one of the local clubs. "It was so terrifying. They couldn't wake up and the campus safety police were called for assistance," she said. "This can have horrendous, long-term consequences for women of all ages and backgrounds."

The idea and design of Pure-Sipity came from the company's CEO, Alexandra Wolfe, who developed the concept as part of her University of Tampa freshman year entrepreneurial class. "I was so impressed with Alexandra's presentation that I told her I wanted to help make Pure-Sipity a reality," said Amanda.

Alexandra continued to work on the concept and within a year had registered the Pure-Sipity trademark and applied for a patent. She turned to Amanda, an entrepreneurship major, to help design the bracelet and bring the concept to life. The two have been partners ever since. Fortunately for Alexandra and Amanda, the University of Tampa's John P. Lowth Entrepreneurship Center's Spartan Accelerator program teamed the women with experts who helped to formulate their business plan and assisted with funding. "Along with financial help from our parents, the Center has found investment groups and venture capitalists who believe in this product," said Amanda. "We have also accessed professionals who provided invaluable pro bono legal and marketing advice."

"If the sticker changes colors, it shows that the drink has been spiked with one of the most popular date-rape drugs like Rohypnol, gammahydroxybutyric acid (GHB) or ketamine."

Pure-Sipity is set to launch by the end of September, using Kickstarter (a social media crowd-funding platform), Facebook and Instagram to get the word out. The price point will be in the $30 range. "We're asking people to pledge one dollar so they can lock up their discounted price and be the first to get one of the bracelets as soon as they are available," said Amanda. Being an entrepreneur and businesswoman is in Amanda's blood. Her mother, Beachwood resident Nadine Glatley, is owner and founder of Rent-A-Daughter Senior Care. "Even as a little girl, Amanda was an innovator and had lots of creative energy," said Nadine. "I'm so happy that she's using her many talents to introduce a product that can protect women of all ages, particularly campus coeds. Pure-Sipity is a blessing for all of us who love our daughters."

Based on the positive feedback they have received from friends who have already tested Pure-Sipity, Amanda and Alexandra are convinced their hard work will pay off. "What distinguishes a successful entrepreneur is persistence," said Amanda. "If you believe in an innovative concept, you don't give up. You keep running with it, no matter the obstacles and naysayers you encounter. That sets you apart from the rest and will ultimately help you achieve your goal."

Bracelets will be available at the end of the month. For more information, email a.basco@ puresipity.com.

Amanda Basco models the Pure-Sipity bracelet that lets women know if their drink has been spiked. Two tester stickers inside the bracelet react to date-rape drugs.

Stare Well Leads to Indie Film Success

by Arlene Fine

Atthew Greenfield's short film, Stare Well, has led to unexpected accolades for the local playwright, author and educator.

The Beachwood resident, who also teaches Modern World History, American Studies, Creative Writing and Film Storytelling at Gilmour Academy, was just named "Best Producer" by the Hong Kong Indie Film Festival after he turned his original 44-minute film, Stairwell, into a nineminute existential short, Stare Well, as Hong Kong put it.

The tagline for the movie reads: A young man seeks to socially distance in an era before it was cool, as he escapes from vapid Frisbee games in a college dorm's stairwell. Take a seat for this edge-of-your-seat thrill ride.

"Stairwell got its start as an OddyFest project in 2008," said Matthew, 38, who founded OddyFest, named after Odysseus, the hero of Homer's poem, The Odyssey. The avantgarde production company provided a forum for Matthew and other local actors and playwrights to showcase their unusual, absurd, or farcical theatrical works.

"My Stairwell play script goes back to the summer of 2005, while college was still fresh in my memory. We filmed it in a downtown Cleveland stairwell in December of 2008. We then exhibited the first 10 minutes at various OddyFest and theater parties around town," said Matthew. "It always got a chuckle. Eventually, my collaborator/ director Tom Kondilas and I had a full cut by summer 2009. I love the original cut, but at 44 minutes, it is a bit of a slog, especially being quite 'talky' as a play script, and featuring an obnoxious character played by me."

During the pandemic, Matthew took a second look at Stairwell and, in March 2021, he re-cut the film into its current short form. He said he kept the existential heart of the film but, after eliminating his character and most of the dialogue, the filmmaker significantly changed the order of events so that what had been the beginning became the ending.

> "One thing is certain – this will be a great lesson for my film students at Gilmour: Never give up on a project."

The short has been getting good recognition at online festivals. It became a finalist at Vancouver International Film Festival in May, and then received the honors in Hong Kong.

"I'm not sure what it was about the production that merited my being the 'Best Producer," Matthew added. "It might be that I was able to gather all those actors together in 2008, or the extra-long editing process, or the witty tagline. One thing is certain – this will be a great lesson for my film students at Gilmour: Never give up on a project." Pictured above: Samantha Greenfield shows her delight with her dad and his Best Producer award.

ST PRODUCER

Matthew's ultimate goal is for Stare Well to be selected by the Cleveland International Film Festival next April as part of the Festival's Shorts Program. "That would be the icing on the cake," he said.

Matthew has another claim to fame. Known as "the Bard of Beachwood" since 2018, he performed his 90-minute poem, The Fairly Tragic Ballad of Flailin' McDrab, at venues around town that year, followed by excerpts from his parody/homage to Moby Dick, titled Mocha-Rich, in 2019. That was followed in late 2020 by a Zoom reading of Oddeye-sea'Rus, a gender-bending return to the Odysseus myth, in late 2020.

Along with honing his writing skills and preparing for the fall semester, Matthew has much to keep him busy. He and his wife, Jackie, the parents of Samantha, 7, a student at Bryden Elementary School, agree that raising their daughter has been "their biggest creative project yet."

"While the award was a very nice surprise," said Matthew, "I have felt like the 'Best Producer' for the last seven years, ever since I became a dad."

Saving Limbs, Saving Lives

University Hospitals Harrington Heart & Vascular Institute Offers Limb Salvage Program to Help Patients Walk Again and Enhance Their Quality of Life

niversity Hospitals (UH) Harrington Heart & Vascular Institute offers a Limb Salvage Program, one of a select number of such centers in the United States. The program transforms the standard of care for "no option" critical limb ischemia (CLI) patients at risk of amputation. UH specialists can provide consultations for patients with blood flow blockages in the leg, advanced peripheral artery disease (PAD), foot ulcers or gangrene.

Experts within UH Harrington Heart & Vascular Institute are national principal investigators for multiple clinical trials aimed at reducing leg amputations, giving patients unparalleled access to novel therapies to prevent lower extremity limb loss.

"We are very passionate about 'hope' ... that is our approach," says Mehdi H. Shishehbor, DO, MPH, Ph.D., President, UH Harrington Heart & Vascular Institute. "I have seen situations many, many times where patients are told there is no hope, there is no option, and then when we take care of them, a few years later they are walking. Honestly, there is nothing more joyful than having that kind of impact on someone's life." When it comes to dealing with patients who have ulcers and gangrene, the needs are immensely vast: taking care of the wound, monitoring potential infection, adhering to proper nutrition, ensuring patients receive the appropriate followup appointments needed, and ultimately being able to use novel techniques to improve blood flow to the feet and legs, to name a few.

"UH created the Limb Salvage Program, because saving people's legs takes a village," explains Dr. Shishehbor. "It's not about one individual, one doctor or one specialty. We created a multidisciplinary team of vascular surgeons, interventional cardiologists, podiatrists, wound care specialists, and others who work together to achieve a common goal." Dr. Shishehbor emphasizes that he and his team feel most successful when they have saved a limb, the wound has completely healed, and patients can walk, enjoy daily activities and enhance their everyday quality of life.

UH is committed to education and public health, and Dr. Shishehbor has trained more than 400 physicians across the United States in advanced techniques for limb salvage.

To make an appointment with UH Harrington Heart & Vascular Institute physicians at UH Ahuja Medical Center, please call 216.810.4999. For more information about the UH Limb Salvage and Amputation Prevention Program, visit UHhospitals.org/limbsalvage.

Stop the Hate Info Session

"Courage is when you dare to be yourself, in whatever ways you want to be - to not be afraid, to just do it." -- Loung Ung

Inspired by Cambodian-born American human-rights activist, author, and Cleveland resident, Loung Ung, the Maltz Museum of Jewish Heritage invites 6 -12th grade students, parents, and educators to participate in an act of courage by helping to Stop the Hate.

Join together for an online Stop the Hate Info Session on Monday, September 13 at 7:00 p.m. to learn about the different components of this prestigious program. Known nationally for awarding $100,000 in scholarships and prizes to Northeast Ohio students and schools, Stop the Hate has grown to include museum tours, classroom writing workshops, and more. Meet representatives from the Maltz Museum and its partners, Lake Erie Ink and Roots of American Music. Hear from the 2021 Stop the Hate Educators of the Year and contest finalists. Find out how students are earning Upstander Certificates and schools are being named Upstander Schools. The event will be followed by a O&A session.

To register, visit www. maltzmuseum.org. If unable to attend, please register to receive a recording or email education@ mmjh.org.

This flagship program celebrates diversity and inclusion by providing free learning tools to middle schools and high schools that are working to create compassionate communication in their classrooms and communities.

By lifting history out of text books and into real life, the Stop the Hate tour uses museum artifacts to exemplify expressions of racism and antisemitism in history, exploring answers to these questions:

- How are power and influence used to spread hate?
- What is legalized hate vs. individualized hate?
- · Who are upstanders,

bystanders, or perpetrators in any situation?

 Optional: Participate in Stop the Hate workshops and/or contest!

During the Stop the Hate Info Session, teachers and schools will learn how to schedule:

- In-person Field Trips to the Maltz Museum for a Stop the Hate Tour
- Online Holocaust Survivor Speakers for your Class
- Classroom Writing Workshops with partners Lake Erie Ink & Roots of American Music
 During the Stop the Hate Info

Session, parents and students will learn how to access:

- Stop the Hate Tour & Activities
 Online
- Weekly Holocaust Survivor Speaker Programs

Library-curated Reading List Educators, don't miss these top three reasons to learn more about the Stop the Hate program:

1. It Works! Over 40,000 students have already participated. Now in its 14th year, the program has established a proven track record for increasing compassionate communication between students in the classroom.

2. Everybody Wins! $100,000 in scholarships and prizes are awarded annually to students, teachers, and schools. Every school that participates in a free workshop receives funding for anti-bias education. All participating students get an Upstander Certificate with the chance to win more.

3. It Supports Teachers! Teachers who are already working on diversity and inclusion initiatives get extra support through free downloadable curriculum, reading guides, and online tours. Anyone looking for more support can book free essay writing or song writing workshops led by experienced, trained Stop the Hate teaching artists from Maltz Museum partners, Lake Erie Ink and Roots of American Music.

Beachwood Hires Deputy Chief, Police Chaplains

Beachwood's new Deputy Chief of Police, Katherine M. "Katie" Dolan, begins work on September 13 and a ceremonial swearing-in will be held on September 20 at City Hall.

The deputy supports the chief of police in overseeing and coordinating the activities of the department and maintaining the efficient flow of communication between public and private sectors and other city departments. When assigned, the deputy chief of police shall have full command of the department in the absence of the chief.

A career law-enforcement professional with two decades of experience, Chief Dolan brings a deep commitment to the development of police personnel and the administration of department procedures to her new role. In addition to serving as chief of police for the Cleveland Metroparks, she is well-regarded for improving operations and bolstering recruitment at that CALEAaccredited police department.

"We are delighted to be bringing Chief Dolan to the Beachwood Police Department," said Mayor Martin S. Horwitz. "Her commitment to training initiatives, community outreach, and budget management will all help to bolster our already outstanding police department." Prior to her role at Cleveland Metroparks, Chief Dolan worked at the City of Cleveland Heights Police Department from 2001 – 2018, working her way from basic patrol officer to captain. She holds a BS in Criminal Justice from the University of Toledo (OH) and an MS in Criminology from University of Cincinnati.

The Beachwood Police Department also welcomes our city's new police chaplains, Father Doug Brown, Pastor Larry Harris, and Rabbi Ari Wolf. Police Chief Kelly Stillman introduced the Police Chaplain program to the city, and then worked with Community Relations Officer Jamey Appell to fine-tune the program.

Father Brown grew up in Lake County and is currently assigned as the Pastor at Mary Queen of Peace, where he has been since 2010. Pastor Harris was born in Mississippi, came to Cleveland in 1952, and has been with Mount Olive Missionary Baptist Church for 38 years. Rabbi Wolf grew up in Brooklyn, New York, came to Cleveland in 1971, and is affiliated with Congregation Shomer Shabbos in Cleveland Heights.

These spiritual leaders will contribute to the wellbeing of our officers by providing spiritual advisement. They will also respond to major incidents where officers, victims of crimes, and/or their families may need a shoulder to lean on. Although each leader is dedicated to his own religious beliefs, they are all kind-hearted, caring individuals who are trained to delicately provide comfort and spiritual advisement to persons of any faith.

A fourth chaplain, Rabbi Mitch Wolf, was sworn in on August 16.

BEACHWOOD ANNOUNCES TOP RANKINGS OF ALL CUYAHOGA COUNTY MUNICIPALITIES FOR VACCINE STARTS, POPULATION GROWTH

Mayor Martin Horwitz announced in August that the City of Beachwood has earned number-one rankings of all Cuyahoga County municipalities for vaccination starts against COVID-19 and also for population gains in the 2020 Census.

According to Better Health Partnership data, 84.6 percent of Beachwood residents started the vaccination process against COVID-19 by June 30, 2021.

"Beachwood is a progressive, forward-thinking community," said Mayor Horwitz. "I am not surprised our residents believe in the science behind the COVID-19 vaccines. It is wonderful to know our City has the highest percentage of people who have started the vaccine regimen."

When the vaccines were first introduced, Beachwood served as a site for many drive-through vaccination clinics, and the Mayor's Office distributed nearly 200 access codes to the Wolstein Center Mass Vaccination Site. Beachwood was one of the first cities in Ohio to declare a mask mandate, and offered a drive-through mask giveaway for Beachwood residents shortly thereafter.

It is not too late to get vaccinated against COVID-19: contact your local pharmacy today for an appointment. Vaccines are free of charge and available for people age 12 and older.

CENSUS POPULATION INCREASE

According to the 2020 Census report by Cleveland.com, Beachwood added 2,087 residents since the 2010 count of 11,953, raising the population figure to 14,040. This growth rate of 17.46% exceeded even that of Columbus, OH.

Two newly built apartment buildings, The Vue and The Aster, plus renovations at The Vantage, Beachwood Apartments by Albion, and others within the city over the past decade, have created additional attractive apartment homes for people interested in living in Beachwood.

"Month after month, more people are searching online for variations on 'places to live in Beachwood' than any other search request regarding our city. Whether attracted to our city due to its diversity, proximity to medical, financial, and business opportunities, top-quality schools, excellent city services, or a combination of the above, we are happy to welcome these new residents," Mayor Horwitz said. "We'll look forward to celebrating many of them in decades to come at our annual 50-Year Resident Salute."

HOMETOWN HEROES EVENT

Hometown Heroes Ceremony Sunday, September 5 • 10:00 AM Beachwood City Park West Pavilion

The City of Beachwood and Beachwood Historical Society invite you to celebrate "Hometown Heroes" who live and work in our community. These individuals are devoted to their work and are dedicated to helping others. They display courage, care, and concern, and do ordinary things in extraordinary ways.

Our Hometown Heroes will be recognized and a special garden will be unveiled in their honor. Following the ceremony, light refreshments will be served.

To read full biographies about our local heroes, visit www.BeachwoodHistoricalSociety.com.

To RSVP or for more information, contact Rosemary Nemeth, Beachwood Historical Society president, at 216.591.0229.

HOUSEHOLD HAZARDOUS WASTE DISPOSAL PROGRAM

To help residents dispose of oil-based paint, pesticides, automotive fluids and other hazardous products found in the home, the Solid Waste District offers a countywide Household Hazardous Waste Disposal Program. Beachwood residents may deliver their Household Hazardous Waste year-round to:

Public Works Department 23355 Mercantile Road Monday - Friday, 7:30 AM - 3:30 PM

The City of Beachwood can only accept hazardous materials that originate from a household. Examples of household hazardous waste include oil-based paint, solvents, used motor oil, automotive fluids, aerosols, lawn and garden products, pesticides, pool chemicals and household cleaners. Latex paint is not accepted.

Dried-out paint cans, empty aerosol cans and other empty containers can be placed in the regular trash for disposal. Empty motor oil and antifreeze jugs may have residue of the hazardous materials they held and should be placed in the trash, not recycling, for proper disposal.

Before disposing of products, consider donating usable materials to a friend, neighbor or organization. For more info, visit the "Rubbish, Recyling & More" Quicklink on www.BeachwoodOhio.com

DO NOT FEED WILDLIFE

Many people enjoy living near and watching wildlife. You can help keep animals wild by keeping the following tips in mind.

- Do not encourage wildlife by feeding or leaving food for them.
- Don't allow bird food to accumulate on the ground.
- Don't place food scraps in gardens or compost bins, and use a closed compost bin.
- Keep pet food and water containers indoors, especially at night.
- If you have fruit trees, harvest or dispose of fruit when it is ripe.
- Use metal or durable plastic trash containers with tight fitting lids.
- Enjoy wildlife at a distance. Respect their space, they are wild animals that should stay wild.

BEACHWOOD VAN SERVICE

The Beachwood Community Services Department continues to provide van service to resident seniors and residents with disabilities to get to medical appointments or to pick up pre-paid grocery and pharmacy orders. For more information, please call 216.292.1971.

USE CAUTION & BE SEEN

Use caution when walking at dawn, dusk and evening hours. Add reflective items to your clothing.

When and if it is necessary to walk in the street, please walk facing traffic and if in a group, single file.

STORYWALK IN THE PARK

The September book featured on the StoryWalk® in Beachwood City Park East is Brick by Brick, written by Heidi Woodward Sheffield.

Papi is a bricklayer, and he works hard every day to help build the city, brick by brick. His son, Luis, works hard tooin school, book by book. Papi climbs scaffolds, makes mortar, and shovels sand. Luis climbs on the playground and molds clay into tiny bricks to make buildings, just like Papi. Together, they dream big about their future as they work to make those dreams come true. And then one Saturday, Papi surprises Luis with something special he's built for their family, brick by brick.

The StoryWalk® Project was originally created by Anne Ferguson of Montpelier, VT, and developed in collaboration with the Kellogg-Hubbard Library to help build children's interest in reading, while encouraging healthy activity for children and adults. StoryWalk® is a registered service mark owned by Ms. Ferguson.

BEACHWOOD CITY SCHOOLS

Opening the 2021 - 2022 School Year

Beachwood Schools welcomed students and staff back to school the week of August 16th. All our students and staff are in person, with full days, five days per week. Beachwood's Board of Education has approved opening our schools with many of the same COVID precautions from last year. This decision follows the guidance of multiple public health agencies and is a cautious and collaborative approach that seeks to protect students, their families, and our staff. We know it is going to take a collective effort to beat this virus.

COVID Precautions – The Beachwood Board of Education approved the following precautions at their August 9th meeting:

- Masking The district requires universal masking for all students and staff. Doing so requires a small sacrifice, but yields a huge benefit. Besides vaccination, it is the most effective way to keep everyone healthy and prevent quarantines that keep students and staff out of school.
- Three-foot Distancing
- Symptom Screening
- Routine Hand Washing/Sanitizing
- HVAC Upgrades
- Increased Cleaning/Disinfecting

Sports and Clubs – We are excited to offer all our sports and clubs this year, and we hope you will join us as participants and spectators at school events. For now, we ask that you wear a mask when gathering for our school events.

Review – Our administration and Board will review these policies monthly, taking into consideration the local rate of transmission. In addition to the possibility of easing precautions based upon local transmission reductions, we will also examine important factors like Food and Drug Administration (FDA) approval of vaccines and the vaccine eligibility age when considering changes in policies.

As we open the 2021-2022 school year, the district continues to focus its efforts, energy and resources across three intersecting areas:

- Student Achievement
- Intercultural Awareness
- Mental Health

On behalf of the entire Beachwood Schools staff, thank you for trusting us to keep your children learning safely in person at school!

Back-to-School Night

Bison families turned out for the return of Beachwood Schools' annual Back-to-School Night event on Sunday, August 15, 2021, held in conjunction with the City of Beachwood's outdoor movie night. District administrators grilled hot dogs for the crowd and the Beachwood Community PTO provided free ice cream (thank you!).

Bison Football Team

Van Monroe, a Beachwood Middle School art teacher, is this year's new head coach. James Basha, Terrence Roscoe, Scott Fischer, and Ray Ratcliffe return as assistant coaches.

Coach Monroe, a professional artist who began teaching art at Beachwood Middle School in the Fall of 2020, has gained national and international recognition with his art in the Smithsonian National Museum of African American History and Culture. His works have also been featured in films such as X-Men Origins–Wolverine and Ice Age: Continental Drift.

As a high school studentathlete, Coach Monroe played quarterback and cornerback at Euclid High School and was inducted into the Euclid High School Distinguished Achievement Hall of Fame in 2014. He then played college football at Miami University, and followed a coaching career that began at Miami University. Prior to being named head coach of the Beachwood varsity team, he was the offensive coordinator for the Beachwood Middle School team.

Returning players include seniors Clay Tepper and Shannon Richardson. Clay plays tailback and quarterback on offense, and defensive end and linebacker on defense. Shannon plays wide receiver on offense, and cornerback on defense. Juniors Joshua Greenwood, Mar'Quis Pinkney and Mar'Tez Pinkney also have varsity experience.

Uzonna Nzedwe is the only junior who returned as a starter. He plays offensive and defensive line, and is a player to watch. "I borrow from former programs and try to bring winning traditions to Beachwood," said Coach Monroe. "A lot of these guys are playing varsity for the very first time, which has really made us as coaches teach the Xs and Os, and focus on the technique of the game. It's a pleasure to watch them grow."

"Our team has a strong bond," said Clay. "We work together, don't give up on each other, and fight as hard as we can. We give each play 110 percent."

"Our team has a strong bond," said Clay. "We work together, don't give up on each other, and fight as hard as we can. We give each play 110 percent."

Shannon and Eliot Brown are also very excited about their senior season of Bison football.

"I think we will have a good season," said Shannon. "We have a young team, but I feel that we have a lot of heart and that we can beat anybody."

"I am excited to play for my team, win some games, and have some fun," added Eliot.

"It is going to be exciting to see these kids put together all the different techniques and skills that they have been working on this summer," added Coach Monroe. "Just remember that we are rebuilding and a lot of these kids are coming out to play football for the first time."

The Bison began their season with home games against Orange High School on August 20 and John Marshall on August 27.

Bison Girls Soccer Team

The Girls Soccer Team plans to build on recent successes. Over the past two years, the program has accumulated 16 victories and won the 2019 CVC Metro Division title.

Because of these successes, participation has greatly increased with the influx of freshmen and other studentathletes. In fact, the JV and varsity rosters are expected to double.

The team is led by Head Coach Dana Raponi and assistant coaches Chris Rolland, Erica DiFranco, and Maranda Melton. Coach Raponi has been focused on teaching and development throughout the summer and is optimistic about the season. "I think we're going to have a lot of movement, learning, and hopefully, growth," she said. "We have new faces and plenty of great talent here."

The team's offense is being led by senior Romi Roth as the striker up top. Romi is a four-year

The Bison Boys Soccer Team is a senior-led team with a vast amount of varsity experience. It is led by Head Coach Brian Greene and assistant coaches Eric Rozsits, Andy Piczer, Derek Patterson and Josh Lowe. "The kids played off-season varsity starter and has been a leading goal scorer over the past few years. One of her objectives is to get the team involved and to make sure the ball is moving well.

Coach Raponi expects many players to make important contributions in midfield. In fact, decisions on who will play are made on a match-by-match basis.

"Aaliyah (Edwards) is one who you'll really want to watch. Her speed, her height and her power are unbelievable," Coach Raponi said. "We have a newer player, Anna (Zhao), who I think will become a very good outside mid for us, too."

The defensive back third, led by Taylor Blackwell, Amelie Cotta, and Briahna Golubitsky, is strong, which is extremely important as the Bison have a new goalie this year.

"Maya (Greller) will take over, and she has some big shoes to fill from Madison (Prince)," Coach Raponi told us. "I think she is

"I am excited about the season," said Romi. "We have many new players, a lot of returning varsity players, and a abundant potential. It's exciting to get them into the groove and to get the team going. It's been fun."

The Bison soccer season started with three games in August, against Wadsworth, Lutheran West, and Valley Forge.

games during the summer months and improved a lot," said Coach Greene. "We look forward to having a great season." Luke Bennett, the leading Luke Bennett, the leading scorer each of the last two years, returns as a junior. "Luke is our striker up top, and Ozan Sasmaz, a rising sophomore, shows a lot of promise," he added.

Seniors Ivan Thal and Alex Park play center midfields. Ivan was the assist leader during the 2019 season, while Alex led the team in assists during the 2020 season. Freshmen Grant Keilin and senior Noah Saidel show a lot of promise. Coach Greene values a strong defense. "Just as important as scoring goals is not letting the other team score," he said. "It starts with the defense. That's the foundation of any team."

Senior Zach Kornspan is on one side and freshman Kyle Bennett on the other, with sophomore Jonathan Mo and senior Jack Petti in the middle. "I look forward to those guys coming up and into the attack," Coach Greene said.

Seniors Dylan Kay and Daniel Uria, and junior Michael Kesleman all return on the defense, with senior Jake Muencz returning as goalkeeper.

"Jake is a four-year starter who is a tremendous goalkeeper. He's stable, consistent and very athletic. Having him with the defense to build upon allows us to try and do some more with the attack. We don't have to play a straight 4-4-2 anymore. We can go to a 3-5-2 or a 3-4-3. We can do that at different times and that's what we're teaching the boys about."

The season started with four games in August against Streetsboro, Lutheran West, West Geauga, and Notre Dame-Cathedral Latin.

The varsity soccer team includes seniors Kabir Dhillon, Kobi Einhorn, Dylan Kay, Zach Kornspan, Jake Muencz, Alex Park, Jack Petti, Rafi Rubeck, Noah Saidel, Ivan Thal, Alan Travis and Dan Uria; juniors Luke Bennett, Michael Keselman and Guilherme Kliger; sophomores Leo Blond, Jonathan Mo, Ozan Sasmaz and Landis Teren; and freshmen Kyle Bennett and Grant Keilin.

Bison Golf Team

The Beachwood Bison Golf Team is coming off an excellent 2020 campaign and is in position to have a remarkable 2021 season.

Bison golfers have had a busy summer, playing in competitive off-season tournaments in order to prepare for the season. Specifically, Bison golfers have participated on the North Coast Junior Golfers Tour (NCJGT) against some of the top high school golfers in Northeast Ohio.

Leading the Bison on tour this summer have been senior Matt Blumenthal and junior James O'Neill. Matt played in many events and had multiple rounds in the 70s. He also won the WoodBrook NCJGT tour event. James also had an excellent summer. In fact, he won the Chardon Lakes NCJGT tour event with a round of 75. In the NCJGT Championship, he tied for first place, with an excellent two-day total of 76-78.

If the summer successes are an indication of things to come, this will be a very exciting season!

The golf team is led by Head Coach Doug Sessor and Assistant Coach Brad Coleman. Coach Sessor was a two-time OHSAA state qualifier at Navarre Fairless High School. He also played collegiate golf at Otterbein College and was previously the girls' junior varsity golf coach at Laurel. Coach Coleman is a talented, amateur golfer, and was a 2004 United States Amateur qualifier.

Both coaches are very excited about the upcoming season and the positive direction of the program. Coach Sessor emphasized that participation – from the youth camps, to JV, to the varsity level – has been growing steadily in recent years.

"The Beachwood program is upward trending," he said. "We had great participation in the youth camp, and now have 13 kids on JV and 7 kids on varsity, and Beachwood kids are now playing summer and spring golf. The team has been working hard to prepare for the season, and I'm optimistic about its success. I believe we will have two or three players who will be All-CVC."

So far, the season is off to a great start. Bison Golf finished second in the Metro Division CVC pre-season invitational, with James and Matt, who shot 78 and 79 respectively. At the recent Trinity Classic, the Bison were led by Matt with a 76 and James with a 79. Matt finished fifth individually making the alltournament team.

"We are pretty hyped," said James. "I feel like we can really compete this year.

Senior Drew Riley added, "I am very excited. It's going to be a fun season."

Bison Cross Country Team

This is an exciting year for the Beachwood Cross Country program. In the Fall of 2018, the coaches noticed the talent of the class of 2022 as they began their high school careers. Head Coach Jamie Lader and Assistant Coach Bruce Sherman watched them as freshmen and knew they'd excel. "We have individuals like Gregory Perryman and Caleb Berns who can really pull this team," said Coach Lader. "David Steckner and Max Kuenzler are also picking it up."

Coach Lader stressed that he is really excited to see how this group of athletes performs as a team. Although they run individually, the social and team cohesion they develop can go a long way in determining success. He also emphasized that many runners have participated in indoor and outdoor track, which is really helpful.

"I am really looking forward to this season," said Gregory "As a senior, I am excited to help lead the team to where it hasn't gone in the past." Caleb echoed Gregory's comments. "I think we have a great team, and an excellent chance to go deep into the season and make some big noise."

The Cross-Country Team started its season on August 28. All of its meets are multi-team events, held almost every Saturday morning through October 17.

Beachwood Hosts 4th Annual Leaf Party

by Ben Lewin and Ian Stender

fter a year marred by the pandemic, the Beachwood Family Aquatic Center (BFAC) has resumed all its regular customs with the 4th Annual Leaf Party. The community, and especially Bartu, missed out on last year's event, which made it all the more special this season.

For those unfamiliar, in the words of Anthony DeVito, "Leaf Party is a day where the Beachwood Community comes together to make a difference in the life of a young man with autism. It's a day where we give rather than receive, and what we give illustrates a colorful picture of what it means to be a united and accepting community."

Leaf Party began five years ago, when campers started to follow Bartu around the pool, joining him in chanting, "Leaf Party! Leaf Party!" Guards took notice of Bartu's ability to bring the community together through his love of leaves and nature, and decided to create a day to celebrate Bartu and the community. This season's Leaf Party features decorations, activities, and of course Bartu and his leaves! As the world continues to rebound from the pandemic, Leaf Party provided a much needed sense of unity and togetherness.

As the world continues to rebound from the pandemic, Leaf Party provided a much needed sense of unity and togetherness. For lifeguard Jenny Zhang, "It was incredibly uplifting and moving to see the community come together to celebrate with Bartu after so much time spent apart in quarantine."

Not only is Leaf Party a fun day for Bartu and those around him, but it gives the lifeguards a day to look forward to and, "At the end of the day, leafs with a smile!" said Owen Shook

In the words of his mother, Dr. Betul Hatipoglu, "Small seedlings are Bartu's small babies. He grows wild trees and plants with care and love, hugs them, and gives them goodnight kisses. He trims them, like a haircut. He finds weeds to be as beautiful as wild flowers. Leaf Party presents a new way of communication for an autistic boy, and his unlimited love is channeled through this event. Bartu teaches us how everything can be loved, and how if we forget about our own limitations, we can connect with everyone and indeed understand one another with one single language that is common to us all: LOVE."

First Catholic Slovak Ladies Association has a new marketing name: The fraternal benefit society is now rebranded as FCSLA Life as it continues to grow and support its membership.

Founded in Cleveland in 1892, FCSLA is proud to announce this new name, which supports its mission to provide financial security to members while embracing its Catholic values and Slavic traditions. This announcement is an exciting development in the growth and maturation of the organization.

The new logo communicates traditional values in red, white, and blue colors – celebrating both Slovak and American heritage. The three tributaries represent family, faith, and financial, that work in harmony and flow together within a circle of life.

"We've focused on providing lasting benefits for our members and our communities for over 129 years," said Cynthia Maleski, national president/CEO of FCSLA Life. "Our financial strength is unwavering as we move into the coming years."

FCSLA Life is rated A- (Excellent) by A.M. Best as of August 1, 2021. For the latest Best's Credit Rating, access www.ambest.com. FCSLA Life is a premier fraternal society offering quality financial products and benefits. The earnings are used to fund member-supported community and charitable activities. With more than 107,000 members across the United States, FCSLA Life's branches around the country actively provide support and service to their communities. FCSLA Life values the traditions of its members, and wants to see them continue to be involved for many generations into the future. To learn more, visit www.fcsla.com.

Long Term Memory Links Long Lost Friends by Jerry Moss

emory is a very strange thing, especially for the elderly. My dad, almost 93 years old, can remember just about everything from the '40s, '50s, and '60s, but not so much after that.

During the pandemic, my wife, Julie, a long-time synagogue librarian, called my attention to a short book written by Alex Gross, a 92-year-old Holocaust survivor, now a resident of Miami, Florida. The story, Yankele, A Holocaust Survivor's Bittersweet Memoir. told of how Alex, his six siblings, and their parents were separated among the camps during the Holocaust; his parents perished. Miraculously, all seven children survived and were reunited after the war. Alex and two brothers settled in Youngstown, Ohio, and started Albee Homes, building pre-fab houses.

This is where my father, Art Moss, enters the story. He worked for Alex from 1959 to 1969 in the company's Ohio, Pennsylvania, and New York offices.

When I learned about Alex's book, my curiosity was aroused, and I attempted to locate him. I learned that Alex was the only remaining sibling, tracked down his telephone number, called, left a message, and he returned my call the next day.

When we spoke, I asked if he remembered my dad. He did! He remembered my father, my mother, and our dog, Bagel, from our home in Vestal, New York. I then asked him if we could include my father on a three-way call. He happily agreed, and I looped in my dad, without warning or knowing what to expect.

I'll never forget what poured from their memories during the 15-minute conversation. They talked about people, places and things; both of their deceased wives, good employees (by name), bad employees (by name), the cars they drove in the '60s (including the color of a vinyl top on one of Alex's cars that my dad had admired). They talked about exercising (Alex exercises daily, my dad never). When Alex told my dad he should exercise, my dad replied, as only he could, "You're not my boss anymore; I don't have to do what you tell me!" They didn't compare medications.

Yankele

Jerry Moss with his dad, Art Moss.

Ten minutes after the call ended, reality struck. My dad called me from his home at Beachwood Commons and asked, "Who was I just talking to?"

DEAR BEACHWOOD RESIDENTS,

I am pleased to announce my candidacy for re-election to City Council on November 2, 2021.

I will continue to serve our community with passion, vision, and commitment.

In my first term, I led the effort to bring City Council members into our elementary schools to teach our students about civics and local government. I helped lead the city on several community projects, including Barkwood, the Community Gardens, and the soon-to-beimplemented improvements to Beachwood City Park East, which will include outdoor fitness equipment.

At the same time, I continue to prioritize support of our safety forces, and to ensure continuation of high-level service in all areas.

It will be my honor to continue to serve Beachwood.

Kindly, Eric Synenberg

Cleveland Kosher Food Pantry Prepares for Holiday Distribution

The Cleveland Kosher Food Pantry is preparing for the distribution of kosher holiday items to help its clients observe Rosh Hashanah. The Pantry is recognized as one of the largest food relief agencies in Northeastern Ohio and is a partner agency of both the Greater Cleveland Food Bank and the Hunger Network. Its weekly drive-through distribution and open pantry serve approximately 250 area families. The Pantry also provides bi-monthly food deliveries to 1,500 seniors in 10 low-income apartment buildings.

Tamara Witkes, newly appointed Pantry director, said, "Our pantry proudly serves all who are in need. Throughout the Jewish holidays, we make a special effort to ensure that our Jewish clients have the basics they need to celebrate with dignity."

Each year, the Pantry obtains kosher chicken, apples, honey and challah, which are added to the regular distribution of fresh produce, eggs, milk and other pantry staples.

Devorah Alevsky, director, commented,"Chabad, at the Lubavitcher Rebbe's directives, has always been at the forefront of helping the Jewish community both spiritually and materially. Therefore, along with the food we provide, an important component of the Cleveland Kosher Food Pantry is to offer the holiday traditions and rituals, which include blowing shofar on Rosh Hashanah, and distributing Yahrzeit candles and Jewish calendars to shut-ins at each of the senior buildings, enhancing the Jewish experience for all of our clients."

As in previous years, arrangements will be made for volunteers to blow shofar at the senior buildings on Rosh Hashanah. In regular times, the Kosher Food Pantry served over 4,000 people per month, a number that's swelled to more than 5,200 per month because of the Covid-19 pandemic.

The Cleveland Kosher Food Pantry was established over 40 years ago by Devorah's parents, Rabbi and Rebbitzin Zalman and Shulamit Kazen, as part of their efforts to help Russian Jews settle in Cleveland through the Semach Sedek Russian Immigrant Aid Society (RIAS). The Cleveland Kosher Food Pantry Advisory Board is cochaired by Muriel Weber and Chuck Whitehill.

The Cleveland Kosher Food Pantry is currently running its High Holiday campaign. Donations may be sent to 2004 South Green Road, South Euclid, Ohio, 44121. Donations are also accepted online at kosherfb.org.

Beachwood Chamber of Commerce Partners with The Gathering Place

The first of many efforts to be more civic-minded

The Beachwood Chamber of Commerce (BCoC) has partnered with The Gathering Place to be the nonprofit beneficiary of this year's annual golf outing.

"The Chamber's focus is on not only enhancing local businesses but also helping non-profits thrive. To that end, we are pleased to be partnering with The Gathering Place, and will donate part of the event's proceeds to this great Beachwood service organization," said Chris Truax, University Hospitals Beachwood Medical Center's chief administrative officer and BCoC Board treasurer.

The Gathering Place offers free programs and services to help individuals and families cope with the impact of cancer in their lives. Chamber marketing manager, Lilia Lipps, added, "As we mark our 30th anniversary, we celebrate the work we've done thus far, and focus on how we can continue to do better. One of the improvements we are making is to be more civic-minded, and that is why we are so excited about this newly forged partnership with The Gathering Place."

The community can help support this cause by signing up to participate in the golf outing. There are also sponsorship opportunities available. And finally, individuals can choose to visit the event website at BCoCGolf21.givesmart.com to make donations. "We are honored to be the beneficiary of the Chamber's 2021 golf outing," said Claire Anter, director of marketing at The Gathering Place. "This partnership helps support our mission to serve individuals and families touched by cancer through the programs and services we provide free of charge. The Beachwood Chamber of Commerce has a history of hosting wonderful events for our community and we look forward to this exciting event!"

Balance = A Key to Success

he therapy experts at The Peter B. Lewis Aquatic & Therapy Center suggest a check-up if you have any of the following situations:

- An inner ear infection
- Meniere's disease (increased fluid volume and pressure in your ear that can cause dizziness, ringing in your ears and eventually hearing loss)
- Muscle weakness from lack of exercise or other reasons
- Inflammation from the flu, allergies, or sinus infection Labyrinthitis (an inner ear
- Labymininits (an inner ea disorder affecting your spatial navigation and balance control)
- Failing eyesight
- Neuropathy in your feet and lower legs (weakness, pain, or numbness due to pressure or damage to peripheral nerves)
- Arthritis in your hips, knees, or ankles
- Vertigo

Does Vertigo Have Your Head Spinning?

Vertigo is a false perception of spinning that can make it feel like your surroundings are moving when they are not. It is an abnormal reaction in your vestibular system, or your inner ear. If you have experienced vertigo, you're not alone! Almost 15-20% of adults are affected by it at some point in their life. It can have a major effect on your balance and vision, and can disrupt your ability to perform activities of daily living.

Eran Shiloh, physical therapist and vestibular specialist, has more than ten years of experience specializing in treating patients with vestibular dysfunction, vertigo, and balance problems. Eran, who sees patients of any age, notes that many people go undiagnosed or do not receive treatment, which is very successful! Vertigo can be abolished in as little as two to three sessions. If you are experiencing any type of balance issues, we invite you to consult with a physical therapist today for an individualized fall prevention program. We also offer free balance screenings to help you evaluate your risk of falling, and to discuss options to reduce that risk.

Here are two questions that help identify vertigo:

- Do you get dizzy when lying down or turning over in bed?
- Does your dizziness only last for a short period of time?

If you answered "yes" to either question, then you may have symptoms of vertigo, but it is not always that simple. With older individuals, symptoms may be more subtle or vague. Individuals 65 years and older tend to report symptoms of unsteadiness or falling.

If you suspect vertigo, you can schedule an evaluation with a physical therapist directly, without a physician referral.

Menorah Park's Peter B. Lewis Aquatic & Therapy Center has physical therapists who specialize in evaluation and treatment of vertigo and can help you to restore your balance. Call the Center today at 216.595.7345.

Mandel JCC CEO Announces Retirement Plans

Neil Tramer, board chair of the Mandel Jewish Community Center of Cleveland, recently announced to the Board of Trustees that Michael G. Hyman, president and CEO, plans to retire at the end of his contract on June 30, 2022.

A veteran in Jewish community center strategic leadership, Michael has dedicated more than 46 years of service to Jewish community centers and the Jewish community, including the JCC of Greater Buffalo, in New York, and the JCC MetroWest, in New Jersey.

Reflecting on his decision to come to Cleveland 17 years ago to assume the role of CEO at The J, Michael said, "To be part of our team of dedicated staff and lay leaders could not have been a better one."

According to Neil, "Michael has been more than a leader. He has been a coach, mentor, cheerleader and friend to so many of our professional and volunteer leaders."

Michael was hired as CEO at The J in November 2003, comina from the JCC of Greater Buffalo, where he was CEO and in other positions for 22 years. During his tenure in Cleveland, he was instrumental in implementing strategies that built a strong and stable Jewish community center: To fulfill its mission of connecting and strengthening the Jewish and greater Cleveland communities through programs and services that reflect the richness of Jewish life, and enhance physical, intellectual and spiritual wellbeing.

Under Michael's leadership, The J received nearly $7 million from the Jewish Federation's Centennial Initiative to fund much-needed capital improvements at the Camp Wise and Anisfield Day Camp facilities; $15 million from the Jack, Joseph and Morton Mandel Foundation for Beachwood facility renovations and expansion; and $1.7 million was raised for capital improvements to build a new infirmary at Camp Wise, the Debra Ann November Aquatics Center at Anisfield Day Camp, and other notable projects.

These improvements brought about the expansion and enhancements of core programs – fitness, early childhood and summer camping programs – to be the best-in-class, all while building The J's membership base.

Additionally, under Michael's leadership, The J's Jewish Life and Culture program was established, the Cleveland Jewish Film Fest was launched in 2006, and the Cleveland Jewish Book Festival became a premier annual event, with more than 10,000 people combined participating in both festivals annually.

Neil has appointed Keith Polster, honorary board member, and Jeanne Tobin, past president, to co-chair a search committee that will identify prospective local and national candidates from which a successor will be selected. A consultant from the JCC Association will be engaged by The J's Board of Trustees to lead the search process with the committee.

In his retirement, Michael looks forward to having more time to devote to his family and other interests.

Tri-C Encore 55+ Registration Now Open

Registration for Encore 55+ Learning at Cuyahoga Community College (Tri-C[®]) is now open for new sessions of on-campus and online courses this fall.

Beginning in September, Encore Campus Fridays will return in a limited capacity at the Eastern, Western and Westshore campuses. Four-week sessions begin on October 8 and November 5 (no class Nov. 26).

Encore On-the-Go virtual sessions will continue once a week on Tuesdays, with sessions starting on October 19 (no class Nov. 23). Instructors will teach classes via Webex, an easy-to-use online meeting platform. Assistance is available for those unfamiliar with Webex, and the Encore team is offering practice sessions to familiarize users with the platform.

Encore Campus Fridays and Encore On-the-Go courses cover a wide variety of subjects, including finance, fitness, history, literature, music, philosophy, science and more. Each class is 50 minutes and start times are 9:00 a.m., 11:00 a.m., and 1:00 p.m.

Enrollment cost for Encore Campus Fridays is $20 per four-week course. Encore On-the-Go is $27 per six-week course.

In addition, Tri-C's Neighborhood Scholars 55+ adult education program returns with in person and virtual offerings. The schedule includes tours of local places of worship, presentations on Cleveland's history, and the popular Cleveland Museum of Art series.

Most Neighborhood Scholars classes are single-day, with fees ranging from $10 to $40. The six-week Cleveland Museum of Art series is $79.

Visit tri-c.edu/encore for full details and to register. Those interested may also call 216.987.2274 for information.
